

Top 10 compliance consultants

Ian Cockerill

As if trying to keep up to speed on all the FSA's output wasn't hard enough, in his role as Sifa compliance director, Ian Cockerill must also keep his finger on the pulse of the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA).

With the SRA launching a consultation on whether solicitors can refer to restricted advisers, and recent FSA papers on centralised investment propositions and platforms, Cockerill said he had never been busier.

Cockerill was previously head of investment business at the Law Society, where he gained contacts at the FSA, which eventually led him to his current role.

